

“Being at Yaskawa has made me a better professional, but it has also made me a better person.”

- ANGELINA WAPPEL
SR TREASURY ANALYST & A/P SUPERVISOR

YOU CAN HAVE FUN AT WORK!

Angelina Wappel likes coming to work. She likes her job. Her teammates. She likes what Yaskawa represents.

“The culture – in finance anyway – is super easy going. You’re expected to do your job of course, but you can have fun while you do it. You can enjoy your co-workers. You know you are appreciated. You know what is expected of you. And, really, everybody is in a good mood.”

Angelina is impressed with the many different people she connects with on a variety of tasks every day as Senior Treasury Analyst & Accounts Payable Supervisor.

“I can’t believe how smart everybody is. There are days like I’m wondering if I’m not supposed to be in the room,” she said with a laugh. “Seriously, the people here are so good at their jobs. It makes me proud to know the money is in really good hands at Yaskawa.”

Angelina doesn’t take her team and the company culture for granted, especially when she talks to friends working at other companies.

“I’m blown away when I talk with people who are not happy with their jobs. Maybe I’m just so ingrained with who Yaskawa is as a company. The way we welcome new people. Respect and trust each other. Support each other with any big challenges or issues. If there’s a problem, we work it out together. Nobody stands alone.”

There is an individual responsibility to carry the culture forward, according to Angelina.

“Personally, I enjoy creating a good perspective of Yaskawa. In our department, paying people on time is obviously important. Responding quickly. Communicating clearly. Being respectful. All these things matter,” Angelina said.

“We should each understand that it’s important to embrace who we are at Yaskawa and really live that because it reflects on all of us.”

Angelina appreciates how her work at Yaskawa has impacted her as a person.

“Being at Yaskawa has made me a better professional, but it has also made me a better person. Working with this team in finance has encouraged me to not only watch how each person is working, but also looking at how I am with them”

“I really appreciate my team. They ask a lot of questions. They do a lot of research. They are very thoughtful about what they do. We’re a really good team. And that makes work a lot more fun.”
